Hello _____, (Or your normal greeting)

I’m excited to announce that I will be presenting at The Professional Pathways in Somatic Movement: Building Knowledge, Skills and Practices Conference April 29th–May 1st, 2022. Please join me for my session: (Title) on (date) at (time).

This conference, organized by the International Somatic Movement Education and Therapy Association, is a professional development opportunity for those practicing as somatic movement professionals, those interested in learning more about what is involved in becoming a professional and also for those wanting to take a deep dive into somatic movement. There is something for everyone with opportunities for in-depth embodied experiential sessions, panel discussions, community roundtable conversations and so much more.

If you are unable to attend the entire live event, you can relax in the knowledge that sessions recording will be made available for registrants to enjoy for three months after the event.
